

Dependencies and how to run.

To run the program, you will need to install the following dependencies:

```
pip install plyer
pip install flask
pip install imapclient
```

After installing the dependencies you should run:

```
flask run
```

A testing server will start at localhost:5000/

You can also use the main.py file from the command line directly

Usage

When you open the website, you will be greeted by a login page.

You must provide your email and password.

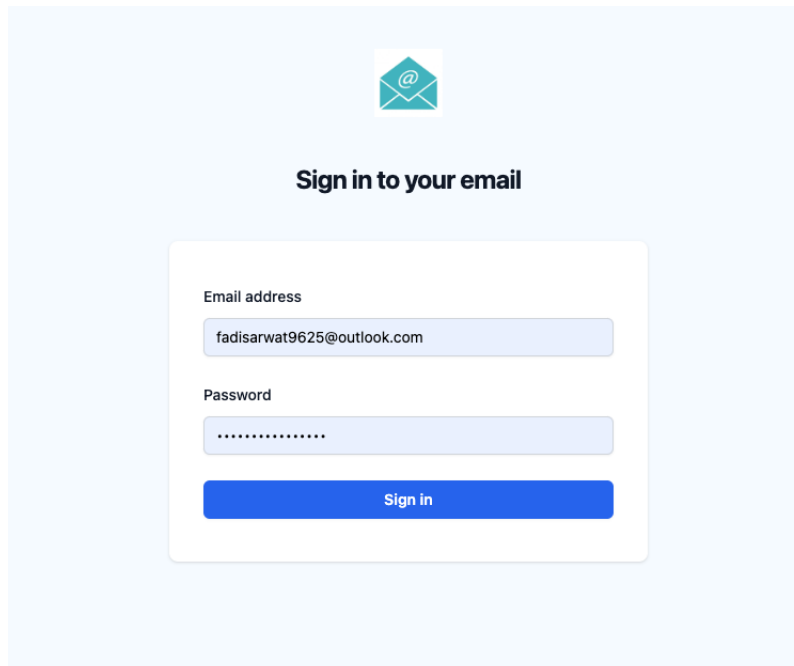

Tested emails:

*@gmail.com

*@outlook.com

*@icloud.com

After logging in you will be redirected to the email client page allowing you to send emails and search all the available emails in your email server.

As you can see this is the home page of the program.

You can select any email by clicking Read more.

Examples of emails:

